Rallies, Game, Play, Luncheon at Homecoming

Dedication of Stadium in Honor of "Uncle Tom" Baxter is Special Feature

Homecoming this year is November 2nd.

Members of the Alumni Executive Committee, faculty and students of the college are all making special plans to welcome alumni and former students of Pacific and Napa College on that day.

The celebration begins with the rally and bonfire on Thursday night when the football team is presented, and given a hearty cheer to encourage the boys to fight for their Alma Mater on the Big Day. Songs, yells, and stunts by various campus organizations constitute the program of the rally which rings with enthusiasm and pep. During the past two years the interest in this affair has been such that the crowd has exceeded the capacity of the college gymnasium.

Another rally is scheduled for Friday morning during the assembly hour in the college auditorium when there is more singing, yelling, talks by Coach Erwin "Swede" Righter, the Captain of the team, and others who are working for the interests of the team.

Marshall Hale Presides

Marshall Hale '86, President of the Alumni Association, who was appointed by the Executive Committee at its meeting on October 1st, will preside at the regular business meeting of the Alumni Association at 10 o'clock in Social Hall. Following this session will be the Alumni Luncheon in the College Dining Hall at 12:30, presided over by President Hale. The informal program at the luncheon will consist of songs, yells, music by the College Band, and other events to stimulate enthusiasm for the game between the Pacific Tigers and the Nevada Wolves in the stadium at 2:30.

A special feature of the afternoon program will be the dedication of the stadium in honor of Thomas F. Baxter. (Continued on page 3)

Harold Jacoby Is At Northwestern

Harold Jacoby '28, last year's Alumni Secretary, writes from Evanston, Illinois, that he is enjoying his work at Northwestern University where he is working for his Master's Degree in the Sociology Department.

A bachelors' apartment has been established by Jake at the Sherwood Apartments, 1940 Sherman Avenue, Evanston. His companions are George Burcham '25, Director of Religious Education at the First Methodist Church of Evanston, and Donald Green, a cousin of George and student at Northwestern.

Among other Pacific people whom Jake has discovered in the Eastern city are Ralph Richardson ex'28, a student at Garrett Biblical Institute; Jessie Rosensteel, formerly in the business office at Pacific, now secretary to Dean Dennis of the School of Speech at Northwestern; Dillon Throckmorton, a student at Garrett, and Mrs. A. J. Todd, wife of the head of the Sociology Department.

President's Message

Our affiliations with Pacific are precious possessions. Alumni, former students, faculty, undergraduates and friends of the College have splendid opportunities to mingle together each year at Homecoming time.

The officers of the Alumni Association invite all alike to gather on the campus in Stockton the 2nd of this November.

Let's strengthen the tie that binds.

MARSHALL HALE.

Satire Comedy To Be Presented by Little Theatre

"Queen's Husband" by Sherwood
Chosen Homecoming Play;
Brown, Director

"A peach of a play, brimful of gorgeous color, mock grandiloquence, sly humor, keen satire, civilized comedy, and warm humanity," is one critic's version of "The Queen's Husband" by Robert E. Sherwood which will be produced November 1st and 2nd in the College Auditorium under the direction of DeMarcus Brown '23.

This three-act comedy is a lively combination of romance and satire. The story centers around a beautiful queen who dominates her husband, a princess who is betrothed by her managing mother to a decadent princeling, and a gentle, ineffectual king who enjoys a game of checkers with his servant.

Members of Pacific Players who will take the leading roles are: the King, Norris Rebholtz; the Queen, Harriet Smith; Princess Anne, Dell Scott; General Northrup, Gordon Knoles; Lord Birten, Clarence Schrader; and Phipps, James O. Dollings. Minor parts will be played by Tully Knoles, Jr., William Morris, and Luke Roberts.

Alumni Rates

DeMarcus has gained for himself an enviable reputation among Stockton theatre devotees for the splendid work that he has done as Pacific Little Theatre Director, and alumni should take advantage of the opportunity to see the Homecoming play which is just one of a series of nine exceptional offerings for the season.

A special rate of seventy-five cents each is being offered to all alumni who have paid their dues for this year, provided that their reservations for Little Theatre seats are sent to the alumni secretary on or before November 1st. On Homecoming day, all seats will be sold at the regular single admission price, $1.00 each.

About thirty of the Pacific graduates who are teaching in Northern California counties are planning to attend this breakfast.

Fourth Summer Session Features Spanish School; Special Lecturers

A registration of two hundred and twenty students and over seventy courses offered made the fourth Pacific Summer Session the largest and best summer school ever held on the Stockton Campus. Previous enrollment figures indicate the increasing interest manifest in Pacific's summer classes. The first year, 1926, the total attendance was only eighty-four. In 1927 it was 138, and in 1928, 185.

The success of this year's session is due largely to the efforts of Dr. G. A. Werner, Head of the History Department, who was Dean of the Session. He has been appointed Dean for next summer and is already making extensive plans for an even greater Pacific summer school.

Frequent informal social affairs throughout the session served to acquaint the students and faculty members and to create the spirit of friendliness characteristic of regular sessions. Besides the annual picnic and several luncheons, two recitals were given by faculty and students, and the class in play production presented "Love-In-The-Mist" by Amelie Rives and Gilbert Emery, and Milne's "The Dover Road," under the direction of De Marcus Brown '23 of Pacific Little Theatre.

Special Lecturers

The annual meeting of the National Conference of Social Workers was held in San Francisco during the summer school session. This enabled the students to attend several of the meetings at the conference, and also made it possible for leading social workers to lecture on the Pacific campus. One of these speakers was Leonard W. Mayo, Dean of the National Training School for Institution Executives of New York State.

Other noted speakers who contributed to the success of the 1929 session were: Mrs. Evelyn A. Clement '09, Chief of the Division of Teachers' Training and Certification; Mrs. Mabel Farrington Gifford, Chief, Bureau of Speech Defects and Disorders, of the State of California; Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, Chief of the Social Welfare Commission of California; Dr. M. H. Smythe, Assistant Chief at the State Hospital; Miss Edna M. Stangland, Assistant Chief of Adult Education; and Dr. Lincoln Wirt, Western Secretary, National Council for Prevention of War.

Alumni who attended this session included: Burta Beers '29, Viola Bohnert '29, Ardis Carter '22, Charles Easterbrook '27, Helen Godsil '28, Jean Humphreys '27, Elsie Field Hurd '27, LaVada May Hutson '28, Edith Knoles '25, George Knoles '28, Gordon Knoles '29, Peter Walline Knoles '25, Elta Livoni '29, Esther Peterson '27, Marion Rice '27, Beatrice Satterlee '29, Iris Sears '29, Lucille Threlfall '29, Weslie Stouffer '28, and Florence Veall '27.

"Casa Espanole"

Fifteen students learned more about Spanish in six weeks at Pacific's new Spanish School than is possible in the average classroom in six months. The "Casa Espanole" was conducted in Epsilon Lambda Sigma house under the direction of Miss Evelyn Miller ex'21, who has spent several years in Hispanic America and Spain. She was

Scholarship at Eastman School of Music Awarded Alice Hatch

Alice Hatch '28, who has twice won first place in the Atwater Kent song contest for the San Joaquin district, has been awarded a full scholarship at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York, where she will study for four years.

The scholarship, which is awarded purely on voice ability, was given to Miss Hatch after taking a test at Los Angeles from Dr. Howard Hansen, the director of the Eastman School. Her voice is mezzo contralto and has been heard with pleasure by many audiences in Stockton and in Lodi, her home city.

Miss Hatch has studied for the last two years with Miss Frances Bowerman, teacher of voice in the Conservatory.

assisted by Dr. Abel Alarcon, a learned and experienced educator, lecturer and traveler of Hispanic America and Spain; Mrs. Antonia M. de Alarcon, an experienced educator of South America; Miss Lorraine Knoles '21 of the History Department; and Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Werner who lived in Spanish-speaking countries many years.

A pledge to speak only Spanish while in the house was signed by each student on the first night during the initiation ceremony. It contained the conditions and three exceptions to the rule, namely, that members could dream in English, fall in love and talk about love in English, and that one could speak Chinese, Russian, and Greek when desired.

Four nights a week, from seven to eight o'clock a social hour was devoted to learning Spanish songs and games, and Thursday evenings were given over to special entertainments and stunts to intensify the Spanish atmosphere. From Friday evening at the time of the dinner gong until Saturday morning, the "Spaniards-elect" were allowed to speak English, but they often found themselves reverting to the summer session language. A feature of the dinner hour was the Spanish grace sung before the meal.

Those enrolled in the Spanish School were Margaret Hamilton, Rio Vista; Lillian Hagopian, Arcata; Mary Phillips, Modesto; Gladys Dufur '25, Lake Elsinore; Florence Finnegan, San Francisco; Bernita Salmon '30, Stockton; Lois Morthland, Sacramento; Bernice Hart, Santa Ana; Mildred Overman, Mescalero, New Mexico; Hazel Kelley '28 and Beatrice Satterlee '29 of Stockton; Roslyn Whitney, Berkeley, and Margaret Rader '31, Peru.

Teachers Hold Alumni Reunion Luncheon at Eureka Institute

Pacific alumni who attended the Northwest Coast Teachers' Institute at Eureka last month, assembled at Hotel Vance on September 25th for an informal reunion luncheon. There was no definite program, but all those present enjoyed seeing each other again and talking over old times.

At this meeting were: Margaret Rae Jackson '27, Fort Bragg; Rita Melville '29, Fort Bragg; Alice Conklin Bohannan '18, Eureka; Evelyn Slingsby Kirtley '26, Eureka; Irma Murray Brizard '27, Arcata (not teaching); Mary E. Hornaday '18, Fortuna; Dorothy Dale '27, Fortuna; Ethel Aldrich '25, Eureka; Lois Whipple Hildebrandt '25, Hopland (not teaching); Homer D. Hildebrandt '24, Hopland; Ray Rollin Wilson '23, Ukiah; Allen M. Ham '16, Arcata.

Because there are so many "grads" in the North Coast section, it was decreed by this group that the reunion during the teachers' Institute shall be an annual affair.

Take notice, Pacificites, of this district, and watch for announcements of the reunion next Fall.

Ex'30 Mr. and Mrs. George Petrie (Rita Ziler '25) are residing in San Anselmo where George is attending the Presbyterian Theological School.

'28 Alene Parker is teaching at the grammar school in Jamestown.

President of the Board of Trustees, who gave $25,000 this summer to defray the expenses of the stadium. Mr. Baxter, more frequently referred to as "Uncle Tom" by the students because of his congeniality and good fellowship, has been one of Pacific's most generous benefactors, and his constant efforts for the welfare of the College have won for him a sacred spot in the hearts of all who know and love Pacific.

Five Teachers On Montezuma Staff Are From Pacific

One-fifth of the members of the teaching staff at Montezuma Mountain School for Boys at Los Gatos are Pacific graduates this year. This is one of the leading private schools on this coast and Pacific may well feel proud that so many of her teachers are recognized by this institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Klyne Headley (Flora Denius) both graduates from the Conservatory in 1928, handle all the music for the school. Neil Warren '27, former star of Pacific Little Theatre, teaches English, Dramatics and has charge of the plays. The House Mother is Mabel Caron '28, who also teaches mathematics, and Dan Stone '28, is instructor in Social Science.

Other Pacificites who belong to the Montezuma family are Mrs. Homer J. Lloyd (Dorothy Rogers '17) whose husband is a member of the business staff, and Mrs. Neil Warren (Marian Jory ex'30) who is kept busy looking after her professor-husband.

Thirty Alumni Attend Summer Reunion Banquet at Berkeley

The program consisted by short talks by officers of the Association, and brief statements from each one present concerning his years at college and his present occupation. Dr. E. P. Dennett '82, gave a few interesting comments on Pacific. Bernice Fiola, Executive Secretary, presided.

Pacific Tigers Win First Conference Game; Homecoming Against Nevada

Pacific Tiger's initial game of the season with McCart's Pirates at Modesto Junior College was a 20-0 win. Big "Moose" Disbrow was general yard gainer and captain of the team under the new ruling that a captain shall be appointed for each game. All three touchdowns and 88 yards out of 26 line bucks made Dizz a big man in a big way. "Vaseline" Vassar, who was responsible for 47 of the yards made by Pacific, is a transfer and comes to the team with a reputation for good football.

A hard-won game was played with Chico at home on October 5th. The opposing line averaged 200 pounds to the man while Pacific's averages 175 pounds. The highlight in this flashy, exciting struggle was a 45 yard pass from Disbrow to Barron ending in the first touchdown. The second goal came in the final quarter when Diz sent another to Barron landing the scrimmage on Chico's 2 yard line. Crandall took the ball over on a line buck. Pacific's line was weak during the first section of the game until Chico made their touchdown and then the Tiger wall stiffened. "Haffy" Heath captained this game. Vassar, Barron, Shuman and Disbrow starred.

The big game in every Pacificite's mind is the Homecoming battle with Nevada. Last year Pacific beat the Wolves by one point in a furious struggle. This year it bids fair to be as close. Eight Nevada lettermen are back in suits and 117 men turned out for practice. Philbrook, the new Wolf mentor, has a reputation for rebuilding short-enders and he is out to stage a comeback after last year's disastrous season. The big hole in their line is the loss of Jim Bailey, big star, triple threat man. Pacific's loss of O'Dale, Countryman and Keyston has been partially replaced by star material from last year's Frosh team.

Other Pacific games looming in the near future are with Humboldt State, Fresno and Loyola. Humboldt was beaten by Chico State a week before the Bengal trod on the teachers, and Loyola trounced Fresno 20-0 this year. This game with Loyola promises to be thrilling, for the Bulldogs from Fresno usually stick in the Tiger throat.

'26 Elroy M. Fulmer is now director of the Dallas Little Theatre at Dallas, Texas.

'28 Elizabeth Evans is an instructor in English and Journalism at the McClymonds High School in Oakland. Her experience on the reportorial staff of the Stockton Record both during her college course and following its completion are proving invaluable in the high school journalism work.

Elva Thomas Porter of San Jose has been elected president of the Delphian Club of that city.

'27 Nadean Tupper spent the summer traveling in the Eastern states and attending Columbia University. En route she visited Ocea McMurray '26, in Chicago. Miss Tupper is Dean of Girls at the Ripon Union High School and instructor in Art.

'27 Ethel Campbell is teaching music in Taft Union High School.

Summer Dinner-Theatre Party Is Given by Oakland Rhizites

A Rhizite dinner-theatre party was enjoyed by fourteen couples on the evening of August 10th in Oakland at the Florence Restaurant and Dufwin theatre. The affair was arranged by a group of Oakland members.
